1. PUBLIC COMMENT

Kent Ervin, K-E-N-T E-R-V-I-N, representing the Nevada Faculty Alliance, the independent association of faculty at NSHE colleges and universities statewide. About 15% of NSHE faculty and all of our Classified colleagues are members and depend on PERS. Good morning, board members. Thank you for your service and diligence. I would like to congratulate PERS on the excellent FY2021 investment performance report, exceeding the market benchmark by 1.8 percentage points. That is a tribute to PERS investment policy, well-diversified with low costs and strong discipline. Of course, a single year of results has limited value in the context of the very long-time horizon for PERS. On that note, I would like to raise a question about how the $14billion unfunded accrued actuarial liability (or UAAL) is scheduled to be paid off. While this is a declining fraction of the total assets in recent years, the dollar amount of the UAAL has been increasing. PERS wisely switched to a more conservative approach with closed amortization periods in 2004, then reduced the pay-off time periods from 30 years to 20 years in 2012 to 2015. But a result, the entire UAAL is now scheduled to be paid off in a cluster of years between 2034 and 2041, with nearly half front-loaded to a 2034 final pay-off date. That is just 13 years away and will necessarily require continued large and possibly increasing contributions to pay off the unfunded liabilities, possibly followed by steep reductions after the large past liabilities are paid off. As you conduct the next experience study and consider assumptions, it will be important to consider how the current amortization schedule will impact future contributions rates. Rapid changes to contribution rates either up or down should be avoided. One question is can or will contribution rate changes be smoothed out using sound actuarial practices? We look forward to the discussion of these factors in the coming months through your experience study and consideration of actuarial assumptions.

2. DISABILITIES

- 2.1 For the record, Yolanda King stated that Applicant Nos. 9, 19, 29, and 37 work or worked for the same employer as herself but she did not feel that it would impair her vote.
